SPECIAL RESOLUTION.

Resolved that the Capital of the Company be increased to the sum of $1,562,500,000, legally current from time to time in the Colony of Hongkong by the issue of 2000 new shares of $125.00 each, and that the Directors be authorized to issue these shares at a premium of fifty cents, and as fully paid up shares, although in all respects to the existing shares of the Company's capital.

Subject to any direction to the contrary that may be given by the meeting that sanctions the increase of capital, all new shares shall be offered to the members in proportion to the shares held by them, and such offer shall be made by notice specifying the number of new shares to which the member is entitled, and limiting a time within which the offer, if not accepted, will be deemed to be declined, and after the expiration of such time, or on the receipt of an intimation from the member to whom such notice is given that he declines to accept the Shares offered, the Directors may dispose of the same in such manner as they think most beneficial to the Company.

idea as preposterous, impossible. "Bosh!" Bosh! A poor Chinaman do such a thing as that? Impossible! And the Bluejacket or Marine goes to the wall. Now, Sir, you might very rightly say that the Bluejacket or Marine was wrong in taking the law into his own hands; and that he should have reported the Chinaman to the officer of the watch. Such a course would answer, were both the parties concerned Englishmen or, rather, Britaners. To use an Americanism,

But when the case is Marine or Bluejacket, the verdict Chinaman such a course is useless, and any one proposing it would be sneered at for his simplicity. What! a Chinaman do any wrong! Nonsense! he can never do anything wrong—when a Bluejacket or Marine reports him. The charge would fall to the ground, and Jack or Joe, as the case may be, would have to go off the quarterdeck creation, a wiser if not a better man there. Is, however, Sir, a time when a man against a Chinaman is beloved, and that is why a man makes a complaint.
He can do wrong then, Oh,
That is thrifly time when he can do Otherwise a Chinaman on board a British man-of-war is like an Englishman in his official capacity, and 'can do no wrong.' To tell you the plain truth, Sir, the feelings engendered by such a scandalous code of justice is bitter, ay, very bitter. I never enlisted in the Royal Marines to have Chinamen as my superior officers, and I never for a moment imagined that when I fell sick I would have Chinese coolies for my wardmates. Yet such is the case. I have had the pleasure (!) of having Chinese coolie from the dockyard as a wardmate in the Royal Naval Hospital here on two occasions. The method pursued is as follows:—Their names are Anglicized, and their diet is marked the same as an European's, but they get no solid food instead of soups, puddings, &c. With all this the quarterly returns, imagining that the Chinaman figure as a book or a white card and are taken for Englishmen. When they were put down properly as a book or a white card they were put down properly as a book or a white card. The Deputy Inspector-Commodore would be blamed for this, for he receives orders from the commodore, who receives them from nobody knows where. To maintain philanthropist who approves of such course on the score of humanity and the poor beggar go off at a tangent in Ecclesiastes. Hal plattitude, I say—the authorities that love the Chinese are nearly have

I remember reading, some time ago, that the colored men were not allowed in the Royal Navy proper. Now, on this station, I have seen a couple of negroes belonging to the Royal Navy proper; one is a steaman gunner, and the other an able seaman. What need is there for this laxation on the lower deck? How would the officers like to have dealings in the ward room? Boys and men are always forthcoming for the Royal Navy Chinese, negroes, of hoc genus omne, when employed as Bluejackets or stokers.

the Admiralty just as much as European ships and are not a source of strength in time of war. During the late Russian scare, for instance, we had to draw men from every other ship in the fleet to man the reserve transport Wigorn and Tweed and the four transporters here. Now, if we had in place of the twenty-seven Chinamen born on the boobies of the Victor Emmanuel, as many European seamen, we need not have much underequipped the other ships. Such a state of things is all very well for the officers. It is economical as far as servants are concerned, and then their feelings are not so trifling as they do not run up against the Chinamen every two minutes, and there is no quarrel between the whites and the

not be deluged, say the officers; and matters it is the fore part of the ship flooded with Chinamen? But I should like to know the opinions of the British taxpayers, thousands of whom have sons becoming the mast in the Royal Navy. In the Army soldiers are treated better in this respect.
 They never have such people as Chinamen, coolies and negroes forced upon them as messmates or ward mates in hospital. Why should it be different in the Royal Navy?

This Standard Work on the Chinese Language, constructed on the basis of Kanghi's Imperial Dictionary, contains all Chinese characters in practical use, and while alphabetically arranged according to the sounds of the oldest dialect of China, the Cantonese, it gives also the Mandarin pronunciation of all characters explained in the book, so that its usefulness is by no means confined to the Cantonese Dialect, but the work is a practically complete Thesaurus of the whole Written Language of China, ancient and modern, as used all over the Empire, whilst its introductory chapters serve the purpose of a philological guide to the student.

A Supplement, arranged for being bound and used by itself, and containing a List of the Radicals, an Index, and a List of Surnames, will be published and sold separately.
